

Adoptable Preserves

Durham Point Sedge Meadow Preserve

- 96.28 acres
- Located in town of Durham, Sedge meadow is a part of the larger Crommet Creek conservation area. The Preserve contains diverse upland and freshwater habitats for many common and rare species of flora and fauna. One globally rare species you can find here is the banded bog skimmer.
- Learn more about Durham Point Sedge Meadow Preserve.

Joanne Bass Bross Preserve

- 453.61 acres
- Located on the town line between Temple and Peterborough NH. The preserve is part of a large forest corridor and contains both high quality spruce forest and hemlock-hardwood-pine forest.
- The Preserve has one trail, Spruce Knoll Trail, and part of the Madison Davis Trail passes through Joanne Bass Bross.

Lamprey River Preserve

- 232.94 acres (2 tracks)
- Located in the town of Durham with 3 miles of undeveloped freshwater river frontage. The preserve supports diverse wildlife habitat rare plant species and extensive forest cover. Help monitor through boat access and on foot through the grasslands.
- Learn more about Lamprey River Preserve.

Loverens Mill Cedar Swamp Preserve

- 1268.7 acres
- Located in the towns of Windsor, Antrim and Stoddard at the most western reach of the Merrimac River watershed. The globally-rare, 52-acre, inland Atlantic White Cedar Swamp on the preserve is of Ecoregional significance and the highest quality cedar swamp in the state.
- The Loverens Trail travels 3.0 miles out and back
- Learn more about Loverens Mill Cedar Swamp Preserve.

Otter Brook Preserve

- 1303 acres
- Located in the towns of Sullivan, Nelson, and Stoddard NH. This 1,303-acre preserve provides vital habitat for several endangered natural communities.
- 4.8 miles of trails
- Learn more about Otter Brook Preserve.

Packer Bog Preserve

- 74.75 acres
- Located in Greenland, NH
- Packer Bog preserve is surrounded by residential and industrial development. The preserve is one of the largest forested wetlands within the Great Bay and provides important wetland functions and habitat. There are no trail systems at this preserve.

Wales Preserve

- 48.03 acres
- Located in Sharon, NH
- 1.2 miles out and back with a loop, easy
- The preserve provides visitors with a chance to explore the Gridley River bank and its diversity of species. The preserve contains mature white pine-eastern hemlock and red maple forest and provides habitat for variety of wildlife, including coyote, fox, deer, bear and other songbirds.
- Learn more about the Wales Preserve via NH Family Hikes.